

ASSOCIATION FOR CHILD AND ADOLESCENT MENTAL HEALTH

Annual Report of the Editor, Occasional Paper Series

Annual General Meeting, 8 June 2007

The aim of the Occasional Papers Series is to allow members of ACAMH and others to share presentations made at successful ACAMH meetings. During 2006 we published No 25 in the series, Genetics: Impact on Current Child and Adolescent Mental Health, with contributions from Thalia Eley, Ian Craig, Fruhling Rijdsdijk, Robert Plomin, Leon Eisenberg, Julia Kim-Cohen, Janet Treasure and colleagues, Suzanne Stevens and colleagues, and Barbara Maughan. The next in the series is entitled Fostering, Adoption and Alternative Care, to be closely followed by Evidence-Based Psychotherapies.

Sales of our current list of Occasional Papers continues at a steady pace, with substantial numbers being sold during ACAMH conferences. The Occasional Papers are always available for purchase by mail order from the ACAMH central office and are also usually available for sale at a special price at national meetings. Although some of the early publications are now out of print, these have been digitalised and can be purchased as a PDF file, either emailed direct or a hard copy printed out and despatched in the normal way. Full details of all Occasional Papers are available on the ACAMH website.
